Celebrating a modernist aesthetic, the Mod House suits all environments from country and beach blocks through to inner-city sites. These finely detailed timber-clad pavilions offer spacious open-plan living zones, extensive full-height glazing, flexible plan options and the highest quality internal inclusions.

The Mod House has the flexibility to be configured to suit any style or size of site, with a range of three and four bedroom customised multi-module houses to choose from.

Pergolas and decks link with the large glazed living spaces to create a plan that opens up to the outdoors. Hardwood timber screening integrates with the pergola to filter and control light.
